Chatter, Conversation & Commentary

1. The Chiefs enter the game with the NFL's fourth=ranked defense (299.4 total yards/game) while the Broncos feature the league's top-ranked offense. Kansas City's Tamarick Vanover is averaging 124.4. all-purpose yards per game and 17.1 yards with every touch of the ball.

2. The Chiefs and Broncos will meet for the 71st time this Sunday in a series that Kansas city holds a 40-30 advantage. With a win Sunday, the Chiefs can claim their fist season sweep over the Broncos since 1980.

3. On Monday, Marino was held in check (18-of-34 for 156 yards with one touchdown and one interception). Neil Smith picked up the slack with eight tackles, a sack and two forced fumbles.

4. The Chiefs 11-3 record is the NFL's best and ensures the club the AFC West title and a home playoff game. Kansas City can clinch a first-round bye with a win over Denver or a Buffalo loss or tie vs. Miami and can clinch home-field advantage throughout the playoffs with a win over Denver and a Pittsburgh loss or tie vs. New England.
