CHATTER, CONVERSATION AND COMMENTARY

1. The group remembered Dr. Earl D. Thomas, late principal at Lincoln high school, for his quiet but firm discipline. (Gardner)

2. The group heard about Project Neighbor-H.O.O.D.'s site review on Thursday, Nov. 14, at Central high school. Led by Director Keith Brown, the inner city neighborhood associations came out in great numbers. (Nunnelly)

3. Paul Booker celebrated his 40th birthday Monday night. He has 14 years experience at that age. (Booker)

4. The group recognized the high school teaching staff at Hickman Mills. One of their students, Anthony Wheeler, improved his grades tremendously. Anthony is a member of Palestine Missionary Baptist Church. (Nunnelly)

5. Birdland, 19th and Vine, has gone international as four Japanese couples visited there on last Saturday. (Allen)

6. Kansas City is the only team to beat the Buffalo Bills, the team with the AFC's best record at 10 wins and the one loss.

7. Dr. Stacey Daniels and Dwayne Crompton, members of the Jackson County Mental Health Levy Board, are recognized for their work in getting much needed mental health services to the inner city.

Monday Niters/ Black College

Ike . . . He's Back!

The Denver Bronco's 24-20 upset victory over the Kansas City Chiefs this past Sunday took its toll on the Monday Niters with nine out of ten expecting the local guys to win. Only Ike Gardner was out on a limb with the right pick.

Earlier in the season, Lloyd Greenfield did not submit predictions a couple of times, but he's still in first place with a 5-2 mark. Gardner's pick in a very tight field lifted from eighth to second, and his accuracy on his six correct picks is phenomenal! Gardner is off by only a season total of 12 points. Closest to Gardner is Ollie Hubbard's 6-4 record with a point difference of 66 points. Five more weeks of the regular season remain.

Predictor's Scoreboard
