Monday Nite Footballers Predictions

By Jim Nunnelly

New York Jets (4-3)

Vs.

Kansas City Chiefs (4-3)

Sunday, Nov. 1, At 3:05 P.M.

Arrowhead Stadium

KCTV-5 And KCFX-FM, 101.1 FOX

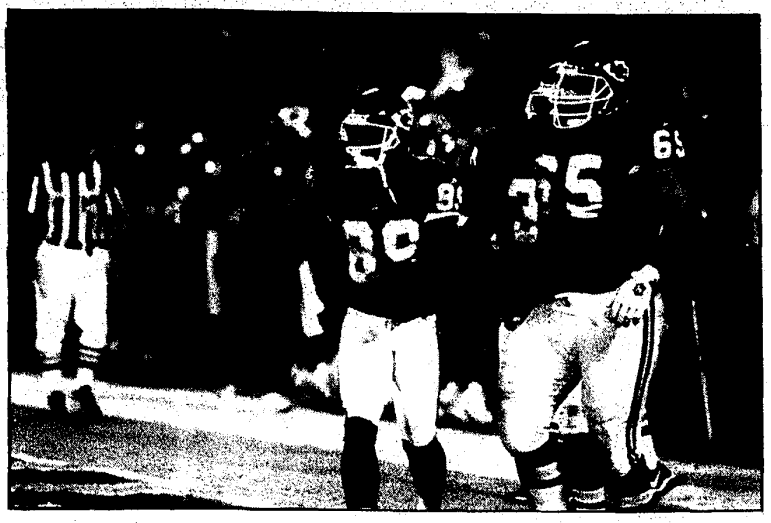
MEMBER	PREDICTION	COMMENT
Charles Allen	Chiefs by 7	Not three losses in a row at home!
Paul Booker	Jets by 3	Chiefs defense can't stop Curtis Martin.
Carl Clark	Jets by 3	Marty and Grbac, no good.
Ike Gardner	Jets by 7	Non-existent offense
Lloyd Greenfield	Jets by 3	My grandmother will be coaching.
Ollie Hubbard	Jets by 12	Keep the faith.
Walt Livingston	Chiefs by 3	Gotta get going sometime.
Jim Nunnelly	Chiefs by 1	Rison, Alexander and Shehee.
Harry Sypert	Jets by 3	Vinny and the Jets.
Ed West	Chiefs by 3	Law of average.

CHATTER, CONVERSATION AND COMMENTARY

ABOUT THE JETS -- The New Yorkers have won the last four of five games. Former Tampa Bay quarterback Vinny Testaverde has guided the Jets to two consecutive victories, and his crisp passing to Keyshwan Johnson and Wayne Chrebet has made him the top-rated passer in the NFL. Vinny and the Jets will make a long afternoon for the Chiefs' defense. Classy running back, Curtis Martin, rounds out this up and coming Jets' offense. Linebacker Mo Lewis and cornerbacks Aaron Glenn and Otis Smith will shake-up the Chiefs shaky offense. While both teams are 4-3, the Jets have momentum on their side, given that the Chiefs have lost two consecutive games. This will be a close, close one and the Chiefs and the Chiefs could lose again at Arrowhead.

OPERATION BYPASS FOR PARENTS - NOVEMBER 7: On Saturday, Nov. 7, a workshop on how to obtain, maintain, and improve the quality of our schools will be held. Program planners say we must bypass all the negative and go right to the most important element in a child's education...the parents. Parents are encouraged to attend and learn about all the resources available to help you help your child. Tutoring, Substance abuse, and health insurance resources will be available. That's November 7, from 1 to 4 p.m., at Paseo Academy, 4747 Flora. A must event for all parents of public school children. Call Carl Boyd for more information at 363-5720.

ABOUT THE CHIEFS: The lackluster offense has always been a major concern for the Chiefs. But, now the once topnotch defensive and special team units, are beginning to fold a bit. Defensive End Chester McGlockton showed up well last Monday night. And receiver Derrick Alexander streaked past receivers on a perfect strike from his college teammate, Elvis Grbac. Grbac is struggling and, in our opinion, has become a quarterback full of unkept promises. Kimble Anders is definitely not going to the Pro Bowl this year. And, Derrick Thomas might not go either. Well then, who can rise up to beat the Jets? Joe Horn can and should return all kickoffs. Tamarick Vanover can return punts only. Further, let's keep throwing the ball to Rison and Alexander. Give Bam Morris and rookie Rashad Shehee a chance. Obviously, the Chiefs are at a make or break point-in-the season. Let's all pray.



HEADING BACK TO THE BENCH . . . Chiefs receiver Andre Rison (No. 89) heads back to the bench with teammates after scoring a touchdown on a 2-yard pass from quarterback Elvis Grbac late in the third quarter in the Chiefs game against the Pittsburgh Steelers Monday night at Arrowhead. Rison's score tied the game at 13-13. However, the Steelers came back in the fourth quarter with a touchdown score on a 5-yard pass from quarterback Kordell Stewart to receiver Charles Johnson. The Steelers didn't look back, defeating the Chiefs 20-13. The Chiefs, with a 4-3 record in the AFC West will face the New York Jets this Sunday afternoon at Arrowhead. -- CALL photo by Jerry Lockett

Reproduced with permission of the copyright owner. Further reproduction prohibited without permission.